

45 Years Before the Public.
THE GENUINE
Dr. C. McLANE'S
LIVER PILLS
 are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the Liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia, and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.
ACUTE AND FEVER.
 No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking quinine.
 As a simple purgative they are unequalled.
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.
 The genuine are never sugar-coated. Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression, McLANE'S LIVER PILLS. Each wrapper bears the signatures of Dr. C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.
 Insist upon having the genuine Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLANE, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

 TENNESSEE'S POLITICAL FUTURE.

We are satisfied that Gen. Garfield's administration is going to be one that no reasonable person, no matter what his past political affiliations may have been, can take exception to. While there is no doubt that his convictions are fixed as regards the principles and policy of the republican party, and that he will be governed by these convictions in shaping the policy of his administration, it is equally certain that he will be liberal, just and generous. His object will be to so administer the government as to build up the material interests of the whole country, and lay broad and deep the foundations of permanent peace and prosperity.
 This being true, there is no good reason why all patriotic men should not yield him their hearty support and cordial co-operation. We are satisfied that there are thousands of men in Tennessee, who have been acting with the democracy, and who voted for Gen. Hancock, who are now perfectly satisfied, and even pleased with the success of Gen. Garfield. They believe that his election assures the continuance of a financial policy, under which the country has been restored from depression to prosperity. They know that involves no change that will prove detrimental to their best interests. They have for some time past been dissatisfied with the policy, or rather the want of any fixed principles and policy on the part of those who have been managing the democratic party. They love to think of the achievements of the democratic party in its better days, but they know that the democracy of to-day bears no resemblance to the democracy of Jefferson, Jackson, Polk and the giants who fought the battles of the party in the latter part of the first half of the present century. As compared to that, they know that the democracy of to-day is a dead corpse, full of corruption and without vitality.
 Knowing these things, why should they longer remain, even nominally connected with such an organization? What reason can they give for even nominally opposing the administration of Gen. Garfield? The republican party in Tennessee needs the influence and support of these men, and there is not the shadow of a reason why they should not give it. All that the republican party proposes is to see the laws enforced. In 1860 a majority of the people of Tennessee voted for Hon. John Bell for president on the platform: "The union, the constitution and the enforcement of the laws." That is the republican platform of to-day, in a nut-shell. The laws must be enforced, including those past under the recent amendments to the constitution. This will be admitted by all good men. That there has been a lurking opposition in the bosoms of many leading democrats against the enforcement of some of these laws, there is no doubt and this has been one of the causes that have led to its quadrennial defeats for the last sixteen years.

But there are thousands of democrats in Tennessee who do not desire to continue their opposition. The coming administration wants their support and will do what is reasonable to secure it. Gen. Garfield will regard those who supported him in the late canvass and those who now show their friendship for his administration, all alike as friends. And against the allies of a republican administration there will be no discrimination. There has never been so favorable a time for those who know the democratic party to be a party of the past, a dead organization without the power of recuperation, to renounce it and ally themselves with a living, progressive party, as the present. We believe many of them will do it.

"It is now definitely ascertained that Maynard is not to remain in the cabinet. Hence the anxiety of Houk, Rule and other congressional aspirants in the Knoxville district increases to have him elected to the United States senate. If Maynard is not disposed of by the federal officials, what will become of their aspirations two years from now? The boys are afraid of him. Our advice to 'the boys' is to stand up for their rights."—Nashville American.

And it is not hard to tell why the American does not want Mr. Maynard in the senate. In the first place, the present incumbent is a sort of brother-in-law to that paper. In the second place, if Mr. Maynard were elected, the republicans would have a majority in that body. This would involve a re-organization of the senate, in which event our esteemed friend, Col. Burch, its present secretary, might be displaced. There is a great deal of milk in that cocoa nut.

TENNESSEE can do nothing in a political way that will demand such universal approval outside the state or that will raise the state in the estimation of the world, as to elect Hon. Horace Maynard to the United States senate. His great ability, his firm integrity, long experience and national reputation, all point to him as the man above all others for this high position. We believe that a majority of the legislature will take this view of the matter, and that his election is not only possible but probable.

OUR FIRST ADMIRAL.
 The Statue of Farragut Designed to be Erected in Madison Square.
 Special dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The statue of Farragut, modeled by Augustus St. Gauden and cast in bronze by Gruet, of Paris, which arrived here in July, has been awaiting the completion of the pedestal for its erection on Madison square. The pedestal is to be a novelty, and it is believed will be the most unique of its kind in the country. From the usual square block upon which the statue will rest a wing will extend out on each side, curving around to the front and making the form, as a whole, almost that of a semi-circle. From one end to the other of these wings will be a distance of sixteen feet. The platform and seats running along inside the wings will be reached by a flight of three steps. The distance from the seats to the top of the wings will be four feet. The steps, platform, seats, wings, and pedestal proper will all be of blue stone. On each side of the base of the statue will appear figures, and the wings and base are to be scored with many lines, representing the action of the water. At the end of the wings in front will be carved the figures of dolphins.
 The statue is of heroic size, being nine feet in height, as is also the pedestal upon which it rests. The motive of the work is to represent a sailor standing on the deck of his vessel. Farragut's firmly set face has a look of intensity as if his gaze was steadily fixed on something ahead of the vessel. He wears full uniform. The feet are firmly planted a little distance apart, as if to withstand the rolling of the ship. On the right side the coat blows in the wind. The right arm hangs down by the side and the fingers are clinched. The left arm is bent across the body, and the hand holds a pair of marine glasses. On the left side is the sword. The uniform is that of the first admiral, and is rank held by him at his death. On the front of the gold faced naval cap appears an eagle surmounting an anchor. The shoulder straps and three wide chevrons on the sleeves indicate the rank. The long double-breasted frock coat, with heavy button buttons, is buttoned close up to the throat, leaving visible a little glimpse of the stock of a cravat. The sword belt has a heavy buckle in front, showing an eagle surrounded by a wreath.

 Just below the statue, at the upper edge of the right wing, appears the name, "David Glasgow Farragut," below which an unsharpened sword stands out in bold relief. On the right wing of the semi-circular pedestal, near the base, is a bas relief representing loyalty. This is the sitting figure of a woman, her hair blowing out by the wind. The right arm fully extended, rests upon the right knee, the hand drooping slightly. The left hand rests upon the left leg, holding a scroll. A eulogistic inscription, reciting the purpose of the statue will occupy the remaining space of the right wing. It will be in capitals throughout, somewhat in the Roman style. On the left wing will be a bas relief representing courage, and an inscription embodying the main points in Farragut's naval career.
 The rear of this semi-circular pedestal will probably be almost perfectly plain, and its height from the ground in the middle will be nine feet.

TUTT'S PILLS!
 AS AN ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE, are incomparable. They stimulate the liver, invigorate the stomach, purify the blood, and give tone to the digestive organs, create perfect digestion and regular movement of the bowels.
 AS AN ANTI-MALARIAL. They have no equal in acting as a preventive and cure for Bilious, Remittent, Intermittent, Typhoid Fevers, and Fever and Ague. Upon the healthy action of the Stomach and Liver depends, almost wholly, the health of the human race.
DYSPEPSIA.
 It is for the cure of this disease and its attendant, SICK-HEADACHE, NERVOUSNESS, DEPRESSION, CONSTIPATION, PILES, &c., that these Pills have gained such a wide reputation. No remedy was ever discovered that acts so speedily and gently on the digestive organs, giving them tone and vigor to assimilate food. This accomplished, the NERVES are BRACED, the BRAIN REINFORCED, and the BODY STRENGTHENED. Dry this Remedy fairly and you will gain a Vigorous Body, Pure Blood, Strong Nerves, and a Cheerful mind.

NOTICE.
OFFICE EAST TENNESSEE, VA. & GA. RAILROAD CO.,
 KNOXVILLE, TENN., Oct. 15, 1880.
 To the Stockholders:
 At a meeting of the Stockholders of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad Company, in convention assembled on the sixth day of October, 1880, it was resolved, that the Capital stock of said Company be increased to $8,000,000, and that each individual Stockholder be entitled to an increase of one hundred and fifty per cent upon the original stock, by his paying to the Company thirty per cent, upon the par or face value of such increase stock, with interest from date—This privilege to continue until the fifteenth day of April, 1881; but not at any time thereafter.
 The surrender of the old certificate or certificates representing the amount of stock to your credit on the books of the Company, and the payment of the said thirty per cent, and adjustment of fractional shares, as provided for by the Company, will entitle you to a new certificate for the entire stock to your credit on the books of this Company.
 The surrender of the old certificate of the old certificate or certificates, representing the stock at this date, of any Stockholder, with a proper property endorsed, to authorize a transfer of the stock on the books of the Company—the person surrendering the certificate, upon the surrender of the old certificate, will be entitled to purchase in his name, of the Company, the increase stock, to which the original stockholder was entitled upon the terms and conditions already stated.

HOLMAN'S PAD.
 Cures Without Absorption. Medicine.
 The Only True Malarial Antidote.
 Dr. HOLMAN'S PAD is no guess-work remedy—no feeble imitative experiment—no purloined hodge-podge of some inventor's ideas; it is the Original and Only Genuine Curative Pad. The only remedy that has an honestly-acquired right to use the title-word "Pad" in connection with a treatment for chronic diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Spleen.
 By a recently perfected improvement, effected by the addition of vegetable ingredients of newly-discovered remedial value and absorptive adaptability, Dr. HOLMAN has greatly increased the scope of the Pad's usefulness, and appreciably augmented its active curative power.
 This great improvement gives HOLMAN'S PAD (with its Adjuncts) complete and unflinching control over the most persistent and unyielding forms of Chronic Disease of the Stomach and Liver, as well as Malarial Blood-Poisoning.
 HOLMAN'S Pads have cured—and are daily curing—diseases of so many kinds, that the list is well-nigh interminable. It includes Malarial Fevers of every type, from Aching Bones and Low Fevers to Chills and Dums; Ague; Stomach diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Chronic Flatulency, Flatulent Heartburn, &c.; Liver Disorders, like Biliousness, Bilious Colic, Dangerous Fevers, Sick-Headache, Pains in the Side, Bileux Nausea, Torpid Liver, &c. Well does this mighty remedy justify the eminent Professor Loomis's high commendation: "It is a Therapeutic PANACEA, and a SURE-THING IN MEDICINE!"
 The success of HOLMAN'S Pads has inspired imitators who offer Pads similar in Form and Order to the genuine HOLMAN Pad. Beware of these bogus and imitative Pads, which do not cure. On the reputation of the GENUINE HOLMAN Pad, the Genuine HOLMAN Pad bears the Private Revenue Stamp of the Stamp and Paper Company, with the above Trade-Mark, printed in green.
FOR SALE BY ALL FIRST-CLASS DRUGGISTS.
